

Philosophy

Short description of subject	Philosophy course covers 1 semester and 30 didactic hours. Lectures are in weekly intervals during whole semester 2 h each and demonstrate the main concepts and problems of the western philosophy. Lectures have both systematic and historical character. Detailed description of topics is available in syllabus. The final grade will be given to students on the basis of their participation in classes, as well as their marks from the written final test. Students are allowed to have 2 absences which are unaccounted for. In case of multiple absences it will be necessary to pass them orally or writtenly.
Necessary requirements for practicals	-----
Location	Lectures are in Lecture hall A – Collegium Veterinarium
Person responsible and Dept	Leszek Kopciuch – Faculty of Philosophy and Sociology UMCS, Pl. M. Curie-Skłodowskiej 4, room no 304            Department of History of Modern and Contemporary Philosophy, Faculty of Philosophy and Sociology UMCS
Schedule	Date: 1- main concepts of philosophy part I            Date: 2 – main concepts of philosophy part II            Date: 3 – main branches of philosophy            Date: 4 – monism, dualism, pluralism – part I            Date: 5 – monism, dualism, pluralism – part II            Date: 6 – monism, dualism, pluralism – part III            Date: 7– teleological and causal nexus, freedom            Date: 8 – rationalism, empiricism and irrationalism            Date: 9 – aposteriorical and apriorical cognition, concepts of truth            Date: 10 – values part I            Date: 11 – values part II            Date: 12 – moral action            Date: 13 – deontologism and consequentialism            Date: 14 – society and its development in history            Date: 15 – written test Pdf files will be attached to each class
Didactic materials	Pdf files with lecture materials            Books – info in syllabus