SEEDING
THE FUTURE
SINCE 1856

About KWS

KWS is one of the world's leading plant breeding companies. For more than 165 years KWS has operated as a future-orientated and independent seed company with the tradition of family ownership.

More than 5000 employees in over 70 countries work on a value chain, which starts with developing varieties to multiplying and producing seeds and then ends with marketing and selling them to farmers worldwide.

Plant Breeders, agricultural scientists, biologists, engineers, economists, legal experts and specialists in different professional areas—together we build the future.

As a partner of agriculture, we make a specific contribution to feeding the growing world population with our innovative plant varieties.

We value our freedom, finding new opportunities, and having a positive impact on the world.

Our focus is not short-term success. Our goal is the development of sustainable and innovative solutions.
