Erasmus+

Vienna

I focused my attention on exploring the city in my free time. Vienna has a very large spectrum of museums. Admission to many attractions is expensive, so if someone prefers to see museums like me, the museum card „Bundesmuseencard“ will make it easier to use the offers. The card costs 66 euros and is valid for one year.

Food

The cheapest stores are Penny and Hoff, the others not necessarily. Prices are different from point to point. For example, for a slice of pizza you can pay from 1.5 to 2 €, and for a kebab 5-6 €.

Käsekrainer Hot dog

Wienerschnitzel

Wienerspritze

Cardinalschnitte

Public transport

Public transport is very well organized, especially by the underground. The lines of individual underground stops are enriched with colors, e.g. red U1 or green - U4, which further facilitates movement. Timetables also include changes in individual stops to another underground, tram or bus. Also, tickets include both the simultaneous use of these above-mentioned means of transport.

Clinics & Work

The practice is not paid, and the number of hours is 10 hours and a half, where half an hour is a break. The internship mainly consists of working as a veterinary technician.

Mostly the intern spends time in the hospital, in the operating room, in ultrasound, in the ambulance.
