

CH

Certificate

The University of Groningen declares that

Weronika Maślanko

has fulfilled in 2023 the requirements of the

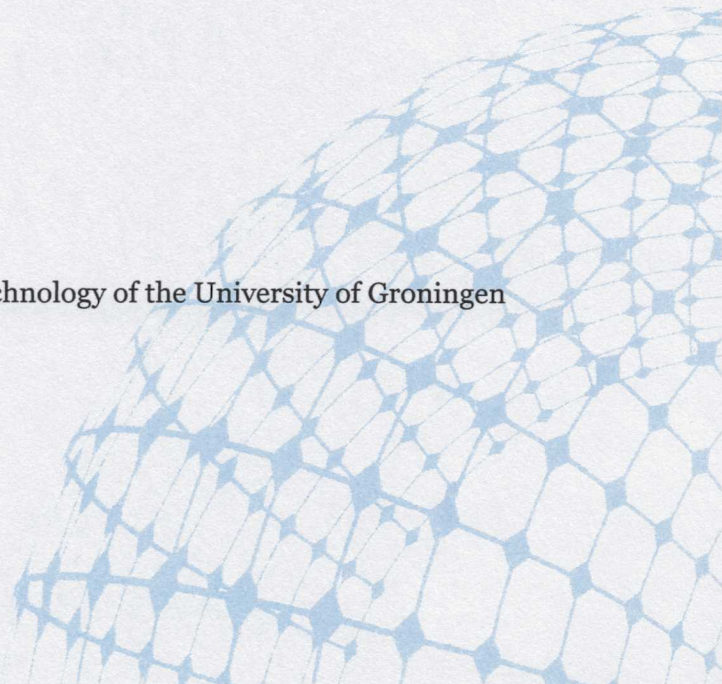

Advanced Programme: Advanced Teaching & Tutoring

*Part of: Masters of Didactics, Ministry of Education and Science, Poland.
Financed by the European Social Fund and the Republic of Poland.*

The programme had a study load of a total of 10 ECTS (280 study hours).
The programme required a commitment of 12 months (three Schools in Warsaw lasting twenty study days in total) and required the successful completion of an individual innovation project, regarding advanced teaching skills.

Groningen, 15th of October 2023

Prof. dr. R.P. Stolk
Director of Center for Information Technology of the University of Groningen

Certificate Advanced Programme Masters of Didactics - Advanced Teaching & Tutoring

Weronika Maślanko

University of Groningen fulfills the requirements for the Advanced Teaching & Tutoring, part of Masters of Didactics. The candidate has demonstrated advanced competence in teaching practice.

Groningen, 15th of October 2023

The candidate achieved the following learning outcomes and is able to:

1. Explore current and upcoming topics and trends in teaching and learning
 2. Evaluate evidence-based literature about quality teaching and learning models
 3. Critically reflect on your own teaching practice
 4. Identify opportunities for improving student learning outcomes
 5. Design an innovation project to implement within your own course(s)
 6. Provide constructive feedback to colleagues
 7. Prepare and disseminate the results of your innovation project
-